What we would like to offer the healthcare science community

What is e-learning and what is a learning management system?

How can we co-create content? (Some round-table work)

The offer...

- In-house, we cannot “author” specialty content
- You can (and have) developed specialty content
- We have at our disposal a Learning Management System (TURAS Learn)
- Access to TURAS is universal (and free)

Can we co-create content: you author and we facilitate onto TURAS?

And “facilitate” means...?

- Converting your “content” into learning management system compatible and compliant resources
- Hosting “content” on TURAS Learn
- Sharing responsibility with you to manage / quality control content

And “convert” means...?

- Your raw PowerPoint content
- We open a dialogue regarding “module” size

What is TURAS Learn?

- turas.nes.digital
- Part of larger Turas platform
- Learning Management System (with a difference!)
- Different types of content
- Accessible to all health and care staff in Scotland

Benefits of TURAS Learn

- Modern, accessible, mobile friendly
- Once for Scotland solution
- Single sign on/data sharing
- Personalised learning records
- Reporting and feedback

Building content

- Advantages of hosting your content centrally
- Implications of local vs national hosting
- What type of content do you need
- Ensuring quality

Proposed HCS Zone on Turas Learn

The screenshot displays the Turas Learn website interface. At the top, the navigation bar includes 'TURAS | Learn', 'Dashboard | Applications - Robert Farley -', and 'Home My Learning Record Admin -'. The main header features a teal background with a photo of two healthcare professionals, the title 'Healthcare Science e-Learning', and a search bar. Below the header, a sidebar on the left contains 'Healthcare Science e-Learning', 'CPD for Healthcare Science', and 'Quality Monitoring'. The main content area is titled 'Welcome to Healthcare Sciences' and includes a 'Feedback / Help' button on the right. The 'Healthcare Science Learning Resources' section contains two buttons: 'Quality Monitoring' and 'Generic CPD'. Two images are shown at the bottom: a group of people in a meeting and a woman presenting to a group.

Welcome to Healthcare Sciences

Welcome to the e-learning and CPD resources section of the Healthcare Sciences Community.

Our aim is to support a multi-profession repository for learning material information and resources to help you in your job, focusing on the relevant Healthcare Science Stream and disciplines.

We have piloted some basic e-learning resources and are interested in hearing from our HCS colleagues who have relevant learning materials. The HCS team at NES intends to explore converting such material into e-learning content. For further information, please contact us at HCS@nes.scot.nhs.uk
