In support of the Emergency Care Framework for Children and Young People in Scotland (2006), NHS Education for Scotland (NES) has developed a stimulating and interactive e-learning resource for all staff who care for children and young people (CYP) within NHS Scotland. The aim is to increase staff confidence using a rapid systematic approach to the assessment and management of CYP, ensuring quality care for CYP and their families.

The resource was developed in partnership with clinicians in practice and supports the changing needs of the NHS workforce. The e-learning modules are available on Turas, therefore the content is accessible to a diverse workforce, including those working within remote and rural locations. The modules will take approximately 3 hours to complete in total.

The resource consists of 4 modules:

- Module 1 - ABCDE assessment and management
- Module 2 - Safe transfer/retrieval of CYP to other facilities/wards for ongoing care
- Module 3 - Scenario based learning
- Module 4 - Paediatric trauma
